Will You Not Gladly Give
Some Books
for a Crippled
Kid's
Library?

At the Rotary club meeting today Mrs. Flora Fitzpatrick gave a very interesting address on the work she is doing among the crippled children of Glendale.

About one and one-half years ago this work was started by the Glendale Rotary club. Mrs. Fitzpatrick being secured at that time as a part-time teacher. Since its inauguration the work has grown to such proportions as to justify the support of the school authorities and it was taken over by them some time ago. Mrs. Fitzpatrick now being employed full time in teaching these crippled children in their homes.

That she is kept busy is best judged by the enrollment, which has grown from five to twenty-two children.

According to usage in educational circles thirty students to a teacher is the accepted average, and this when students are gathered together. When a teacher has such a number as twenty-two to teach and it is necessary to go to each individual home in order to give the lesson, the task is difficult and is a mammoth undertaking for one teacher to do justice to.

In Mrs. Fitzpatrick's talk she mentioned that she was endeavoring to collect a library for the use of these crippled children and the Rotary club members were most enthusiastic in offering their support.

The thought comes to us that probably many of our readers have suitable books for children which are not in use and which they will be glad to give for such a worthy cause.

So those who would like to give some books to help brighten the lives of these shut-in children should look through their storerooms and book shelves and sort out the volumes which they or their children have out-grown or read all they care to, and bring them to the Daily Press office. We will turn them over to Mrs. Fitzpatrick. If they are too heavy or it is inconvenient to bring them to our office, notify us and we will have our delivery auto collect them.

MARY MILES MINTER HLED INTO COURT AS SPEEDER

Mary Miles Minter, Hollywood film star, will be represented by Attorney Neal McCarthy of Los Angeles tomorrow morning before Judge Harry Chase in the police court. She was arrested by Motorcycle Officers A. D. Arner and Glen Hemminger while speeding south on Brand boulevard Saturday morning between Maple street and Park avenue at a rate of 34 miles an hour, according to the officers' statements.

HALLOWEEN ANIS PARADE WILL BE HELD TONIGHT

Everything to Come Off as Was Planned for Last Night

The Kiwanis club entertains all boys and girls of the city at a big Halloween celebration this evening. A parade will be formed at Harvard and Louise streets at 7:15 and everyone is asked to wear a costume appropriate to Halloween. The guests will be classed in four groups, as outlined in yesterday's Daily Press.

Prizes will be awarded to the boy and girl in each group wearing a costume which shows the most originality and cleverness. The entertainment which the club has provided for its guests consists of pushball contest and a fine display of fire works. The public is cordially invited and there will be room for the adults in the grand.

This is the big doings for the kiddies which was to be given last night but had to be postponed on account of the rain.

The parade will be over in plenty of time to let those who so desire attend the Orpheus club concert.

"WHAT IF IT HAD BEEN YOURS?" GOT TICKET YET?

Glendale Program Exclusively on Radio Friday Night, Tuned in?

WILL THERE EVER BE CHANCE AGAIN LIKE UNTO THIS?

You Can See and Hear All in One Performance,
22 Film Stars

Two more film stars are added today to the list of those who are to give the big benefit performance for dependents of Glendale's fire heroes, at the Tuesday Afternoon club auditorium on Tuesday evening, November 6. They are Mischel, the boy wonder, and Charles Buck Jones. This makes 22 in all. Never have so many film favorites been seen at one gathering and taking part in a performance together. Possibly never again will it be seen.

Kelly's Shrine Orchestra will furnish stirring music for the occasion, its manager gladly volunteering the services of this well-known organization.

This is a cause that appeals to the best there is in human nature. The men whom we honor gave their lives for us. Their loved ones are left with inadequate means of support. Grateful residents of Glendale and Eagle Rock, the cities they helped to save from the devouring flames, have planned this big benefit performance and film-drom stars have gladly agreed to furnish the program. Tickets are $5 each. Have you bought yours?

THREE MEN LASHED BY UNMASKED "REGULATORS"

(By Associated Press)
TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 1.—Unmasked men last night took three citizens to the woods near here, whipped them and left them wounded and bleeding to make their way back to the city, according to reports to chief of police Williams today.

Leo Isaacs, restaurant proprietor, under the care of physicians, told newspapermen that four men seized him at his cafe, took him in an automobile to the woods and gave him a whipping. His physician said he had lost considerable skin and that the body was covered with welts and discolorations. Isaacs said his assailants handed him a letter warning him to close up his business in ten days and not to open it under threat of death.

Isaacs had been arrested several times on federal warrants charging liquor law violation, the authorities said. Enriquette Rosa, head waiter of a cafe, was taken by a band of men to the woods near Oldsmar, 15 miles west of Tampa, where he was lashed and left to make his way home. Andrew Williams, negro, restaurant proprietor, was taken to a point near Myrtle Hill cemetery, five miles north of here, and beaten. They also received written warnings similar to that given Isaacs. They were signed "Qua Que Que."

FIRING OF BIG GUNS PROVES VITAL POINTS

(By Associated Press)
SAN PEDRO, Cal., Nov. 1.—Two important points in naval warfare were proved yesterday aboard the superdreadnaught Maryland on the San Clemente drill grounds offshore here, when her 16-inch guns inscribed a brilliant page in naval history.

That the giant weapons are super-efficient as to the guardians of the coast lines of the United States, was proved in scores of 80 per cent perfect hits on the moving short range targets.

Secondly, it was proved that the aptitude of young American sailors at the breeches of the giant rifles show a marked superiority as gunners. The guns fired prior to the main battery practice, were manned by recruits with but a short time of service to their credit, who scored hits rivaling those of the turret gunners.

The targets were changed twice in the course of the firing, and each set was completely riddled.

HI LIGHT FIXTURES CONTRACT TO BE LET

Contract for the installation of lighting fixtures in the new High school plant is expected to be awarded tonight by the board of trustees. Other subjects to be discussed are the laying out and landscaping of the grounds and the preparation of specifications for stage equipment. An effort will be made to have the auditorium ready for the annual variety show December 13 and 14.

TRAVEL 160 MILES FOR RED APPLES FROM YUCAIPA

Those Yucaipa apples must be good. Yesterday, Councilman Asa Hall, accompanied by Mrs. Hall, traveled all the way from Glendale to the Yucaipa valley—a distance of 160 miles—to get some of them.

The Halls started from Glendale at 7 o'clock in the morning and got back to the family fireside at shortly after 4 in the afternoon. They did not strike any rain going out, until they reached Puente, and then only a light shower. Coming home they traveled over mile after mile of wet highway, but did not "connect" with any rain until they reached Eagle Rock.

They report a delightful time. The country around Yucaipa was a revelation to them. Those apples ought to make mighty good pies. Wonder if they do.

RARE TREAT FOR ART LOVERS ON SUNDAY NEXT

Speech by Noted Russian to Be Feature of Art
Association Meet

At the regular Sunday afternoon meeting of the Glendale Art association, which will be held next Sunday, at the public library on Harvard at 4 o'clock, a rare treat will be provided in an address by Frederick Albert Leekney of Riga, Russia, whose property there was confiscated by the government and who has come to the United States to live as a free man under the Stars and Stripes. He spent seven years in the Orient studying and making sketches of wonderful temples in Manchuria and Mongolia and the monasteries of Tibet. Some of these have been destroyed by recent earthquakes and his pictures have increased value. Most of them are watercolor which will be used to illustrate his talk. He is a sculptor, painter, and interior decorator.

The exhibit by students in the High school art department which will be on display throughout November, will be placed before Sunday afternoon and can be studied by those who attend the association meeting, which is open to the general public.

Mrs. Roy Ballagh, president of the association, is also curator of the art section of the Tuesday Afternoon club. She states that the section's exhibit for November, to be hung in the club house and which will be open to the general public on Mondays, will all be contributed by Glendale artists and that 35 small canvases will be sold to the highest bidders. The bids can be left at the club house with the section secretary.

The art section meets the first and third Tuesdays at 10:30. At the meeting of November 6, John Cotton, etcher and water color painter of this city, will give a talk on some of the American artists.

NEW GOVERNOR OF LOWER CALIFORNIA APPOINTED

(By Associated Press)
CALEXICO, Cal., Nov. 1.—General Alvarado Rodriguez, commanding Mexican federal troops in the northern district of Lower California, today became governor of the state under executive order from Mexico City and, as his first official act, single handed and with his bare fists, cleaned out the radical element at Tijuana.

The new governor, who is a graduate of the University of New Mexico and thoroughly conversant with American conditions said: "I did the job with bare fist American methods."

Governor Rodriguez succeeds John I. Lugo, who is reported slated for the post of Mexican minister to Cuba. The new executive, a military man, will hold office until President Obregon appoints a civilian to the position.

CHAPTER BA OF P. E. O. WILL MEET FRIDAY

Chapter BA of the P. E. O. will meet Friday for a short business session at the First Congregational church previous to the reciprocity luncheon to be served there at noon in which all of the four Glendale chapters will participate.

BOYD'S INJURIES IN AUTO CRASH PROVE FATAL

Machine Overturns on San Fernando Road; Skull
Fractured

An inquest into the death of P. G. Boyd of 3739 Revere avenue, Los Angeles, probably will be held tomorrow afternoon in the funeral parlors of L. G. Scovern.

Mr. Boyd was motoring toward Los Angeles on San Fernando road about 7:30 yesterday morning. At the bend in the road near the Los Angeles city boundary he turned out to avoid a collision and the machine he was driving turned over. He was thrown out, his head hit the paving, and he was pinned underneath the car. He was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium hospital where he died at 2:40 yesterday afternoon. His principal injury was a basal fracture of the skull.

Mr. Boyd was a carpenter by occupation and was on his way to work when the accident occurred. He was born January 23, 1880, in Pennsylvania and was 43 years of age. He is survived by his wife, two sons and four daughters. Ernest Boyd of Stockton, Will Boyd of Taft, Mrs. Margaret Allen of Huntington Park, Mrs. Mildred Pierce of Medford, Oregon; Mrs. Mabel Stock of Glendale and Miss Marie Boyd of Glendale. A brother, Hiram Boyd, lives in Chicago.

Mr. Boyd was a member of the Seventh-Day Adventist church and was an indefatigable church worker. He spent the day before he died in missionary work for the denomination. He was loved by many as an example of the Christian living.

PLEADS FOR NATION'S REDEDICATION TO LIBERTY

(By Associated Press)
ALEXANDRIA, Va., Nov. 1.—A plea for the nation's rededication to those principles of unselfish devotion to liberty and human brotherhood of which he called Washington the "great exemplar," was voiced by the Right Rev. James E. Freeman, Episcopal bishop of Washington, in delivering the principal oration at the laying of the corner stone today of the George Washington national Masonic memorial. The bishop warned against influences which tend to create racial and religious hatreds within the nation and those which would alter the fundamental basis of its relations with other peoples.

"We are met here today," he said, "not so much to think of Washington, the patriot, the soldier, the commander-in-chief, and ultimately the president of the republic, as Washington, the high exemplar of those splendid ideals for which this ancient order stands."

Among influences which have helped to shape the destinies of the republic Bishop Freeman said none has had more far reaching effect than that resulting from the principles for which Free Masonry has ever stood, namely, the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

ZEVE GOES TO BLUE GRASS STATE FOR RACE

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Zev, the idol of American turfdom, departed today for Latonia, Ky., there to decide on Saturday the mooted question whether he or My Own has the faster legs.

The nemesis of Britain's favorite, Papyrus, will appear in the $50,000 Latonia championship in which My Own is also entered. Zev topped off his triumphant career yesterday by showing his heels to the field, winning by lengths the Autumn Championship of the Metropolitan racing season at Empire City. Incidentally, the great horse earned in this race $5,516, including his total winnings of $265,073, more than $15,000 greater than Man O'War's.

INJURED ON RIDGE ROUTE, BROUGHT TO GLENDAL

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Holley and daughter, Dorothy Jean Holley, of Exeter, are now at the Glendale Sanitarium-Hospital, where they were brought early last night following an accident on the Ridge route. Mr. and Mrs. Holley received bruises while their daughter had her right ankle fractured. They were on their way to Long Beach.

HALLOWE'EN WAS OBSERVED BY DAME NATURE

Heavy Rain Adds to the Debris Scattered in the Street by Celebrators

"This is annual window washing day."

Jupiter Pluvius last night played a Halloween prank upon more than 1000 local kiddies who had talked their "mas and pas" into agreeing to let them go to the High school athletic field to attend the monster "doings" under the auspices of the Kiwanis club.

A rain of "black cats" and witches on broomsticks" just at twilight "dampened" the celebration and it had to be postponed until tonight.

The rain gauge of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett of 333 West Broadway this morning showed that the precipitation last night amounted to .25 of an inch. This makes the total for the season so far .53. The gauge of T. W. Preston, at 330 North Jackson, showed .30 for this storm and a total of .62 for the season thus far.

Moisture, however, did not interfere with the activities of a number of local "gangs." They had a joyful time throwing boxes in the streets, hanging rocking chairs on telephone poles, throwing garbage on front porches and otherwise expressing their exuberance. Flood waters left much debris on the streets, also.

A number of articles were "borrowed" for the occasion. Perhaps the most important was a Chevrolet roadster owned by J. R. Brown of 316 East California avenue. It was taken about 9 o'clock from Brand boulevard and Wilson avenue and found this morning on Harvard street between Kenneth road and San Fernando boulevard. An old-time buggy, of the vintage of 50 years ago apparently, was found bottomside up, on Central avenue just north of Wilson.

BURBANK IS NOW IMPORTANT RAIL SHIPPING POINT

Average of Five Hundred Tons of Freight Unloaded Daily

With an average of twenty-five freight cars a day unloading in Burbank, and another ten tons a day coming to this city in smaller shipments, Burbank can be said to be headed for an increase in rail-road facilities, according to M. S. McIntosh, Southern Pacific agent.

The daily average of passenger trains passing through this city is thirty, according to Mr. McIntosh, which is more than some cities twenty times larger than Burbank. Besides the regular trains there are always extras, averaging five a day, bearing passengers to conventions and elsewhere, ten extra trains being run through en route to the recent American Legion convention at San Francisco.

The freight cars bring into Burbank such commodities as lumber, cement, gasoline, automobiles and farm machinery, taking out china, ware, canned goods, soap, chemicals, food products and automobile trucks.

GABRIEL JAUREZ HIT BY AUTO, RECEIVES BRUISES

Gabriel Jaurez, local Mexican, was bruised early last night when struck by a machine driven by R. E. Lawton of 326 North Belmont street. The accident happened in front of the city hall. "I was going east on Broadway at a rate of about 10 miles per hour," reported Mr. Lawton. "I failed to see him owing to his black clothing."

DISCUSS DRAINAGE OF VERDUGO CANYON

The drainage problem in Verdugo Canyon, due to the fact that the forest fire left behind a large amount of debris, is being discussed this afternoon at a committee meeting at the city hall. The city administration is represented by City Manager W. H. Reeves.

PALACE GRAND SHOPE IN FORMAL HOW DE DO TODAY

Go in to the opening?
The formal "how d' do" of the Palace Grand shops in the Jensen building, 133 North Brand boulevard, is being held today.

Beginning early this morning this grand opening is being conducted all day and will be extended until 10 o'clock tonight. The "crowd" started to gather at an early hour and throughout the morning there has been a steady stream of interested Glendalians.

Needless to say the impressions that have been made by the shops on the morning visitors have been unusually favorable. Each establishment is up to the minute in styles and also in prices.

Throughout this afternoon and evening souvenirs will be distributed and music will be furnished.

Better get in line. These shops really have many beautiful things to exhibit. It'll pay you to get acquainted.

ROTARIANS FAVOR LIBRARY FOR CRIPPLES

Members Will Donate
Books and Aid in Other Ways

At the Glendale Rotary club meeting held today noon at the Egyptian Village cafe George Karr presided and Owen Emery led the singing. A number of visiting Rotarians were present, among them F. Curt Miller of Burbank, Paul W. Light of Liberal, Kansas; A. D. Smyth, Sam H. Hollis, Elliott B. Wyman and Charles S. Feeney, of Los Angeles; Joseph E. Leddy, Willis Brown and Thomas M. Sizer of Pasadena; Clarence S. Smith of Vancouver, B. C.

Secretary, Rena Olin announced that the last three meetings had been 100 per cent in attendance and that October's record was 99.4 per cent.

Bill Hunter, chairman of the Halloween party, announced that the affair would be held tomorrow night in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. It will be a costume party for Rotarians and their families.

Announcement of the Orpheus club concert at the Tuesday Afternoon club auditorium tonight was given and the statement made that it is under the auspices of the Glendale Commandery, Knights Templar. Hugo Kirchhofer, who is well known and loved in Glendale, is now leader of the Orpheus club.

Ernest Ford gave a short talk on Rotary ethics, as chairman of the Rotary educational committee, and Art Dibbon was called on to talk about Rotary classification. Dick White, chairman of the "crippled children" committee, told of arranging for the employment of a teacher who can go to the homes and teach those unable to attend school on account of some physical infirmity. He said this work is now being supported by the board of education, which took the work over after the Rotary club had demonstrated its need. Mrs. Flora Fitzpatrick, the teacher who has been carrying on this work, was present at the meeting and gave a very interesting outline of her work. The present enrollment is 22, she reported. She called the members' attention to a bazaar to be put on for the benefit of a library for the crippled children, to be held in the High school auditorium on Thanksgiving eve. The Rotarians heartily endorsed the plan and members agreed to each bring all the books he can spare, to the office of the board of education, for this library.

ORGANIZATION MEETING OF CREATIVE SECTION

Mrs. James Henry Ballagh of 308 North Louise, curator of the "Creative Section" of the Glendale Music club, has sent out a call for an organization meeting at her home Thursday evening, November 15. "All persons who have done creative work in poetry, art or music are invited to communicate with Mrs. Ballagh whose telephone is Glendale 2384, and to attend this meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Ballagh have just returned from an outing at Elsinore.

GLENDAL NIGHT ON EXAMINER RADIO

Singing Mayor and Elks'
Orchestra Will Be Featured

The program from the Examiner studio tomorrow night will be devoted entirely to Glendale talent. Our beautiful city has been given considerable publicity during the past few years because of its rapid growth in population, giving it fame as being the fastest growing city in America. A novel program has been arranged which will be a great delight to all radio listeners in.

A feature of the program is Mayor Spencer Robinson, who because of his marvelous voice has won for him the name of "The Singing Mayor." He is remembered in Los Angeles for his wonderful singing in the Methodist church under the late Bishop Robert Burdette and later under Charles Edward Locke, now bishop for the Methodist church in Manila.

Another feature of the program is Mrs. Virginia Freeman, former member of the Metropolitan opera company in New York. Mrs. Freeman has won a place in the hearts of all radio enthusiasts for her many contributions to radio broadcast and also with all lovers of music because of her remarkable success throughout the east.

For those who like dance music there will be the Glendale Elks' Novelty orchestra, which is made up of members of the champion Elks' band of California, which won this distinction in Europe on September 21. It is an eleven-piece orchestra whose members are:

William G. Bode, director and saxophonist.
J. A. Becker, violin.
John Gleason, saxophone.
R. E. Durke, saxophone.
L. E. Wilbur, first trumpet.
C. K. Aston, second trumpet.
I. S. Brown, trombone.
F. E. Moniot, banjo.
D. E. Langlands, piano.
C. M. Burke, tuba.
R. C. Flint, drums.

"Bill" Bode, who directs this orchestra, has won considerable fame as a saxophone player. A surprise feature of the program will be Mr. and Mrs. Harry Girard, who have many times before contributed to radio broadcasts, whom everyone will be interested in hearing. Many will remember Mr. and Mrs. Girard in vaudeville, where they were headliners on both the Keith and Orpheus circuits for over seven years.

Another artist whom everyone will be glad to hear is Miss Dorothy Dagley, a new resident of Glendale. Miss Dagley has just returned from a two years' Chautauque engagement, covering the entire middle west and southern states. Miss Dagley will be accompanied by Mrs. Mary Searcy Ball, a very accomplished pianist, who will later give a piano solo. Mrs. Ball has been a very devoted student of music and has studied under some of the finest teachers of the east.

Those not equipped with receiving sets may hear this program at the Examiner branch office, 213 West Broadway, or at the Newton Electric Co., 154 South Brand, where the program will be sent out over the new Westinghouse radiola grand.

CHICAGO HAS NO CHANCE FOR REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Chairman Adams of the republican national committee, declared today that Chicago "has no chance" of being selected for the 1924 republican national convention unless assurances are given that hotel rates there will be more reasonable than in the past.

Adams said that Chicago, Cleveland, Denver and San Francisco had indicated to the national committee that they would bid for the convention.

"Either Cleveland or Denver, in my opinion, has a chance," he added. "Chicago has no chance of getting the convention unless it can assure that hotel rates charged delegates will be more reasonable than they were in 1920 and 1916."

He did not discuss the possibilities of San Francisco, but said that the whole matter would be determined at the meeting of the republican national committee in Washington, December 11 and 12.

Just Off the Wire From Here and There

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Tipped that a holiday of the home for incurables on the upper Third avenue was planned by bandits, sixteen detectives today posed as employees and inmates of the institution and saved the $6700 pay roll and arrested two armed men.

William Voss, lieutenant of detectives, and one of his men were in the cashier's cage, disguised as bookkeepers, when the bandits entered the institution, and guns drawn ordered hands up. The other detectives were stationed nearby, some with mops and brooms, some in wheel chairs and some carrying crutches.

The capture was effected without a struggle. The detectives were so well disguised that they fooled even attendants and nurses.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—E. O. McCormick, vice president of the Southern Pacific railway, died at his home here today of heart disease, after a short illness. McCormick had been with the Southern Pacific since 1899. He was born in Lafayette, Ind.

PASADENA, Nov. 1.—The victim of Halloween revelry, Donald Slater, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Slater, was shot through the right leg last night by W. H. Whitcomb, 138 North Madison avenue, who believed he was firing at burglars, when a group of boys aroused him from sleep early in the evening.

JERSEYVILLE, Ill., Nov. 1.—Attempting to tie a wagon wheel to the top of the Gratiot high school flagstaff as a Halloween prank, Haily Hayes, a pupil, aged 16, fell 50 feet to the ground last night and was instantly killed. The iron flagstaff broke at the base under his weight.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Erich Hagenlacher of Germany today defeated Welker Cochran of Los Angeles, 500 points to 323, in the sixth match for the world's 18.2 ball, line billiard championship. Hagenlacher ran out in 24 innings and set a new high run record for the tournament with 157. Cochran had been favorite to win after his victory over William Hoppe, the champion, last night.

LLOYD GEORGE ENDS SIX THOUSAND MILE TRIP

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—David Lloyd George, Great Britain's war premier, has ended his six thousand mile tour of the United States and Canada. He arrived in New York last night, went to the home of John W. Davis, former ambassador to the court of St. James, in Locust Valley, London Island, and made final preparations for his two final addresses in this country. The first will be delivered at the Lotus club tonight, and the second at the Metropolitan Opera house tomorrow night.

RIBBON CLASSES ARE STARTED AT PENDROY'S

Many women will be glad to know that Pendroy's have started classes every Wednesday and Friday from 2 p. m. until 4 o'clock giving the best of careful instruction in the making of fancy flowers and lingerie dainties, flowers for lampshades, art pillows, corsage bouquets, head bands and also novelty work in ribbons. This will also include coat hangers, starters and many other dainty things appropriate for Christmas gifts. This is the first time that such classes have ever been offered to the women of Glendale. Judging by the number in the first class it will be very successful. The members are enjoying the work very much and are much pleased over what they can accomplish in a couple of hours' time. Owing to the popularity of this class it will be necessary to register at the ribbon counter at Pendroy's, as only a limited number can be taken care of in the class. And while we are talking of Pendroy's, have you seen the big new electric sign on the roof, flashing its light over a wide radius. It is the largest in Glendale and can be seen for many miles.

Dr. Richardson's office, which has been at 107A South Brand boulevard, in the future will be at 13 East Main street, Alhambra. The Richardson family came to Glendale about fifteen months ago from Seattle. Dr. Richardson is reluctant to leave but feels that business investments in the neighboring city compels his residence there.

Attorney Ryckman To Speak at Open Forum

The Los Angeles Open Forum in Music-Art hall, 233 South Broadway, is to be greatly favored next Sunday night by the presence of Attorney J. H. Ryckman, who has just returned from a three months' trip to Europe. Mr. Ryckman, who has long been a student of social, political and industrial matters, went across the Atlantic to observe conditions on the other side and he has come home with many interesting things to tell concerning what he saw and heard in Europe. His address next Sunday evening will deal with "Great Britain's Present Policies." Judge Ryckman attended the Single Taxers convention in London last August. He was greatly impressed with the trend affairs were taking in the British Isles, and he has some things of real significance to tell as to the British empire's present delicate position in international affairs, and her probable move in the future. Judge Ryckman will also speak on November 11, telling of "Critical Conditions on the Continent of Europe." The music next Sunday night will be furnished by David Haisa, mandolinist, accompanied by Miss Rae Fink. The program starts at 7:45 sharp, and is under the management of the American Civil Liberties union, Southern California branch, with Rev. Clinton J. Taft, the director, presiding. A most cordial invitation is extended to everyone to be present and hear Judge Ryckman.

UNION PACIFIC REDUCES FARES FOR HOLIDAYS

Announcement was made today by T. C. Peck, general passenger agent of the Union Pacific System, that reduced round trip fares for the coming holiday season will be made by that line between all of its stations in California, Nevada and Utah.

For Thanksgiving Day tickets will be sold on November 27, 28 and 29, good for return until December 4; for Christmas and New Year, dates of sale will be December 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30 and 31, and January 1, all good for return until January 3, 1924.

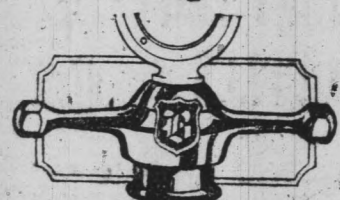

These reductions will afford many people an opportunity for enjoyable trips and visits during the holiday season.

UP-COUNTRY ANNEXATION TO BE DISCUSSED TONIGHT
Annexation of the up-country to Glendale will be discussed tonight at a mass meeting in the La Cresenta school. The Chamber of Commerce will be represented by Secretary E. F. Sanders, E. F. Heiser, secretary of the Independent Lumber company; George Bentley, secretary of the Bentley Lumber company; and Herman Nelson, manager of the Glendale Avenue Branch of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank.

Let me tell you—

—said one of our customers: "I've been dealing at 'Western Auto' stores for nearly four years and I've come to the conclusion that they sell the best quality Automobile Accessories and Supplies on the market—their stores are all conveniently located—their stocks are always fresh and nicely kept—their courteous salesmen have convinced me they want my business—and I feel real thrifty every time I make a purchase."

Proof That Zerolene Is a Better Oil

The function of a lubricant is to reduce friction and thus increase the effective power of the engine. The best proof that Zerolene does this to a superlative degree is found in the fact that a car lubricated with Zerolene delivers about 5% more gasoline mileage than when other oils are used. One good test of the purity and stability of a motor oil is the amount of carbon it forms. Zerolene forms less carbon than any other motor oil known to us. For this reason the Zerolene-lubricated automobile may be driven from 25% to 50% farther without having the valves ground or the cylinders rebored.

—let me try one of those "Western Giant" Cords—I've heard so much about them—I have a friend who is using a set of "Western Giant" Cords on his car, and let me tell you his car sees service—for he's a great fellow for taking touring trips. Sometimes he goes where there are no roads and, believe me, his tires are wonders to stand the strain—this exclamation came from a customer in one of our stores just the other day—it came to the "ad" man from the salesman who waited on him.

DANTE'S FIERNO PARTY & LIVE COLE LASS

Famous Bk of Gifted
Italian Graphically

A jolly party was enjoyed by members of the Live Cole class on evening week at the home of Homer Miller, 434 Burchett street, who has arranged the party. The party was divided into four groups, labeled respectively "murders," "bigamists," "scandal-mongers" and "plain sinners." All were asked to enter the tomb and give riches for the damned. Each had to endeavor to secure redemption by the performance of some stunt, and these were duly judged. The prize for the "arch sinner" going to R. D. Carlock.

Those who won through to "heaven" as all did for a short period, were fed upon mince pie and cider, and were then sent to "purgatory." The Miller home was wonderfully decorated with Halloween emblems and in the Halloween colors, and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by the twenty-five young men and women in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Thompson, who are newly-weds and who had that day taken possession of their new home, were initiated as members of the class and after they had taken their departure the rest of the company followed and treated them to a brief, good-natured charivari.

DOROTHY ALEXANDER HAS HALLOWEEN PARTY

Dorothy Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Alexander of 1003 East Palmer avenue, entertained a group of friends at a Halloween party given at her home on Wednesday afternoon. The young people were fancy costumes and greatly enjoyed various Halloween games at contests, for which prizes were awarded. The house was appropriately decorated in Halloween colors. The favors were pop bottles dressed as the witches' brew in straw with frills of paper. Place cards were of black, red and white. Refreshments appropriate to the occasion were served during the afternoon.

Those present included Alice and Louise Trex, Helen Okey, Eneviene Beah, Evelyn Flynn, Eneviene Flynn, Margaret Marvett, Stratton, Ion Tremaine, Frances Ford, Katherine Towne, Katherine Perry, Muri and June Marlett, Evelyn Johnson, Jeanie Leitch, Rosalie Mudgett, Dorothy and Bobby Alexander.

SUPREME VATCHMAN TO VISIT MARTIN

Official visit of Ernest Elwood, supreme vatchman of the Elwood chapter, to Omar Tent No. 9, White Shrine of Jerusalem, will be made on Friday night of this week. A special program of music and other entertainment has been planned and will follow the business meeting, which will be held in short form. After in the evening a banquet will be served. Mrs. Evelyn G. Torce, worthy high priestess, will be in charge.

CARNIVAL FIRST M. E. SOGA HALL

A carnival will be held tomorrow night in the social hall of the First Methodist church, Elwood. M. COLLEGE WOMEN'S CLUB MEETING ON SATURDAY

Program for the regular meeting of the Glendale College Women's Club on Saturday will be in charge of members of the club who are Pomona College graduates or former Pomona students, who will also act as hostesses for the occasion, which will be in the form of an afternoon tea to be held from 3 o'clock until 5 at the Tuesday afternoon club. Dr. Bernard C. Ewer, who is head of the psychology department at Pomona, will lecture on "Educational and Social Aspects of Psychology as Related to Both Sexes in the Classroom." Another speaker will be Ray Moreman, who is a graduate of the 1920 class from Pomona. Mr. Moreman represented Pomona College on the faculty of the International College in Smyrna and came into the limelight during the trouble in Turkey, when he rescued Armenian children in an orphanage.

A musical program will also be given by James Judy and the Pomona Alumni Male Quartet. The guests of honor will include Mrs. Blaisdell, wife of President Blaisdell of Pomona, and Mrs. Ewer. An invitation is extended to all Pomona students and ex-students who are now residing in Glendale.

CHEST DIRECTORS TO MEET CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

Tonight members of the board of directors of the Glendale Welfare chest will meet in joint session with the campaign committee and check up the names of all persons recommended for captains to ascertain who will or will not serve and what vacancies are to be filled that the territory may be thoroughly covered. The printing of stationery and of publicity matter for the campaign will probably be authorized, and steps will be taken to secure a list of contributors to the budgets of beneficiaries in past campaigns.

A matter which is urgent is the securing of budgets of the past year from all charitable and welfare organizations which should participate in the chest for the consideration of the committee on budget and endorsement.

MRS. ANGELICA WAS HOSTESS AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. R. D. Angelica of 418 Raleigh street was hostess yesterday at a luncheon at which covers were laid for six, viz.: Mrs. E. L. Bryant, Mrs. Leland Bryant and Mrs. Janice, Mrs. George Jordan, Mrs. E. A. Augustine and Mrs. Angelica, yellow chrysanthemums centering the table. The ladies remained for an informal social afternoon.

Tuesday Mrs. Angelica and Mrs. Augustine were luncheon guests of Mrs. Jack Farley of Hollywood. Mrs. Hanger, aunt of Mrs. Angelica, also being a guest. Mr. Farley is the movie critic of the Illustrated News of Los Angeles.

BUCKEYE SOCIETY HOLDS FIRST MEETING

Former Ohio folks of Glendale, Montrose, Burbank and surrounding towns held their first business meeting on Wednesday night at the Odd Fellows' hall, when by-laws were selected and the name of the "Buckeye Society" of Glendale was accepted. The society will meet the last Wednesday of every month at the I. O. O. F. hall, 201 West Broadway. The following officers were elected: C. N. Wilder, president; B. M. Billings, vice-president; A. Van Wormer, treasurer; Mrs. H. Greenwalt, recording secretary; Mrs. J. McGrager, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George Hyne, publicity chairman.

At the conclusion of the business meeting a delightful program was given, including vocal numbers by J. A. Meyers, accompanied by Mrs. Roberta Young, "Coming Home" and "Bamboo Baby," recitation on "The Moon" and "The Tea Party," by little Miss Bethel Weaver; reading, "Over Hill to the Poor House," by Mrs. H. H. White. At the close of the program hot coffee and pumpkin pie were served.

PHYSICIANS' CLUB HEARS DR. PAUL BOWERS OF L. A.

Members of the Glendale Physicians' Club of which Dr. P. M. Rossiter is president, report a wonderfully good luncheon meeting at the Egyptian Cafe on Wednesday which was attended by about 30 doctors of Glendale and vicinity. Dr. Paul Bowers of Los Angeles, a neurologist, was the after-dinner speaker, his theme being, "The Relation of Mental Defects to Crime." Dr. Bowers was formerly connected with big institutions for the insane and criminally insane in Indiana and has had wide experience. His talk proved very illuminating. The next club meeting, which will be held in the high school the evening of November 9, will be addressed by Dr. Brainard of Los Angeles.

MRS. HENRY ENTERTAINS FOR DAUGHTER CATHERINE

MRS. MOORE ENTERTAINS AT HALLOWEEN PARTY

Mrs. George H. Moore of 221 West Elk avenue, superintendent of the primary and beginners' department of the Pacific Avenue Methodist church, entertained thirty-seven children of that department and eleven of their mothers with a Halloween party at her home on Wednesday afternoon from 2 o'clock until 5. Various Halloween games were played and refreshments of ice cream and cake in appropriate colors were served. Mrs. Moore was assisted as hostess by the teachers of the department, Mrs. Harold Adams, Mrs. W. H. Robinson, Mrs. Mary Miller, Mrs. Felix and Mrs. Fred Maynard.

OLD PEOPLES' DAY AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

"Old Peoples' Day" will be celebrated next Sunday at the Central Christian church, corner of Colorado and Louise of which Rev. Clifford Cole is pastor. Every elderly man and woman in the city is invited and a means of conveyance will be provided for all who will telephone the pastor between now and Sunday morning. The sermon and the music will honor those crowned with years, and the oldest person present will receive special recognition. As the church is equipped with the acousticon, there should be no difficulties for those who are "hard of hearing."

MRS. BATZ ENTERTAINS AUCTION BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Emma Batz, of 430 Vine street, was hostess on Wednesday to the members of the Mid-week Auction Bridge club. Those present included Mrs. Arthur Dibbern, Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, Mrs. W. H. Boothby, Mrs. James Apple, Mrs. Chester Kling, Mrs. G. P. Smith, Mrs. W. E. Halstead, Mrs. Vm. Moore, Mrs. H. A. Thim, Mrs. Ed Herring, Mrs. Walter Jones and the hostess. High score was made by Mrs. Dibbern. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Boothby.

"CHURCH NIGHT" DRAWS USUAL ATTENDANCE

In spite of rain one hundred loyal members of the Central Christian church came out Wednesday night for the weekly supper and family night which was given a Halloween setting, the cooks and waitresses being garbed as ghosts. There was the usual attendance on the school of missions, the "demonstration" covering customs of Japan as exhibited by children dressed in Japanese costumes who sang songs and gave recitations pertaining to missions.

MARY LOUISE MOORE ENTERTAINS FRIENDS

On Wednesday night Mary Louise Moore, daughter of Mrs. George H. Moore of 221 West Elk avenue, entertained a group of friends with a costume masquerade party on Halloween. The guests included Claudine and Madeline Noelle, Jeanne and Alice Leighton, Beatrice and Eleanor Guenther and Elizabeth McEnany. Ice cream, cake and candy carried out the Halloween motifs and colors.

FREE ORGAN RECITALS AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

On Friday evening, November 2, the first of a series of free, popular pipe-organ recitals will be given at the Congregational church, beginning at 8 o'clock. Miss Lilla Litch will be the organist, assisted by H. E. Cavanah in voice. These concerts will be open to the public and will be given the first Friday in every month, according to O. E. Von Oven.

RED CROSS CHAPTER HAS ALL-DAY SERVING BEE

Several members of Glendale chapter of the American Red Cross, of which Mrs. H. E. Bartlett is chairman, met for an all-day sewing bee on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. John Robert White, 347 North Orange street, to work on kimonos for the Japanese children. Another meeting will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Mrs. White's.

MRS. BARTON IN CHARGE LUNCHEON RESERVATION

Mrs. A. Barton has charge of reservations for the regular luncheon meeting of the Tuesday afternoon club on November 6. Reservations must be made by Friday night, November 2.

TIRELESS WORK OF PLAYERS IN "MRS. WIGGS' REHEARSALS"

A "peep-in" at the dress rehearsal of the Glendale Community Players last night showed the tireless work of the players and their directress.

There is marked talent evident in many of those taking part in this production, and they are very fortunate in having with them Mrs. Fannie Stockbridge, who, as Miss Hazy, carried this role so intently during a long run of the play through the east, and in Los Angeles; also Adalene Wheeler Bradley, graduate of the Cummoek School of Expression, well known before her marriage for her humorous readings.

So besides a most natural civic spirit in this most deserving dramatic effort, it is pleasing to know that tickets have been engaged from many of the neighboring cities, guaranteeing a crowded house for both Friday and Saturday nights' presentation of this thoroughly wholesome and delightful play.

READING CIRCLE HEARS HELPFUL BOOKS READ

At the regular meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading circle held Wednesday at the city library, roll call was answered with quotations. Mrs. G. W. Campbell reviewed, "Quit Looking for Help," by Dr. Frank Crane, and Mrs. C. H. Crawford read an article on "Reliance" by Emma Gary Wallace. A goodly sum was realized from the cake sale held during the luncheon hour which was followed by the reading of the day's chapter in "Play and Education" by Lee. Mrs. Brunner, and Mrs. McLean volunteered to serve as the tea committee and announcement was made that Wednesday, November 14 will be "Old Members' Day."

MRS. SUBERT ENTERTAINS OLD CINCINNATI FRIENDS

Mrs. W. J. Subert of 1063 Allen street entertained a few former Cincinnati friends at her home on Wednesday. Halloween favors and autumn flowers were used in decoration. A delicious luncheon was served at 1:30 o'clock, followed by an afternoon of "500." The guests included Mrs. J. Hartman, Mrs. T. P. Evans, Mrs. P. Doeblich, Mrs. C. Vogel, Mrs. M. Wisman, Mrs. H. Richter and Mrs. G. Hyne. First prize was awarded to Mrs. Hartman and second prize to Mrs. Evans.

MRS. CASTLE ENTERTAINS WITH HALLOWEEN PARTY

Mrs. A. B. Castle of 907 Mariop street entertained with a Halloween party on Wednesday night for her daughter Alice. The Halloween motifs of decoration were carried out throughout the house. Halloween games and dancing provided diversion for the evening. At 10:30 supper was served. Those present included Marjorie Gilhuly, Rosmond Bicknell, Jean Ingram, Marion Ballard, Shirley Preston, Wayne Varick, Clyde Johnson, Jimmy Johnson, Read Stearman and Alice Castle.

MANY MINNESOTANS WILL MAKE MERRY

Friday evening, November 2, is the date of the Minnesota reunion in the Music Art Hall, 233 South Broadway, Los Angeles. Dr. and Mrs. Ed. M. Hiller will give musical numbers, vocal and instrumental. County roll call will add to the fun.

Ice cold cherry will be served. Sociability will reign and all the Gophers will be welcome till the hall is full. Those who want seats are advised to go early.

MRS. CRIBBS TO ENTERTAIN CLUB RELIEF COMMITTEE

Mrs. George Cribbs of 327 Patterson avenue will entertain the members of the local relief committee of the Tuesday Afternoon club on Friday, November 2, at 1 o'clock at her home. The time will be spent in tying comforters.

EXECUTIVES CERRITOS P. T. A. MEET FRIDAY

The executive board of the Cerritos avenue Parent-Teacher association will meet at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon at the school for a business session.

BUTTER CONSUMPTION IS INCREASING FAST

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 1. The consumption of butter in the United States has increased 160,000,000 pounds in the last 12 months, according to Dean H. L. Russell, of the college of agriculture of the University of Wisconsin.

"The production has shown an increase of 100,000,000 pounds in a year, to meet the rising demand," Dean Russell said, "but the country has been compelled to import 60,000,000 pounds of butter during the year, to make up the difference between increased demand and supply—despite the fact that the Fordney tariff places a high duty of eight cents a pound on butter." Agricultural experts, Mr. Russell asserted, are unable to explain the big increase in butter consumption.

Truths in Epigram

There is one quality which all men have in common with the angels, blessed opportunity of exercising, if they will—mercy.—Dickens.

He who gives up the smallest part of a secret has the rest no longer in his power.—Anon.

Gossip pretending to have the eyes of an Argus, has all the blindness of the bat.—Ouida.

AN OLD FRIEND TRADUCED

The head of the National Restaurant association has made a sharp attack on ham and eggs, the favored basis for a meal at once quick and nutritious, gratifying to the taste and sustaining to the mortal frame. He says that the patrons who order this fare are impelled by lack of imagination. Of course imagination is a fine quality of the human mind. It lifts the individual from the dust of the road and lands him in fields elysian, where he remains until waked up. But imagination is not needed in a restaurant. Rather, it is better that the mind should not wander far lest it produce contact with non-appetizing realities. If the patron craves ham and eggs, by poetic license "ham and," there are many reasons to account for his taste. He knows what he is getting. Both elements in the satisfying total are familiar. It is impossible to befool him by disguising either of them with an imported alias. When the platter arrives he sees before him a meal that not only suits his palate but sticks to the ribs, as the saying is.

Naturally the purveyor of food would be pleased at an order for something more elaborate, involving a chance to elaborate the price in the menu. Yet doubtless there is a reasonable profit in each serving of ham and eggs, and a multiplicity of orders ought to be appreciated instead of being met with gibes.

Ham and eggs is an American dish, a wholesome, filling dish. There never yet has arisen excuse for making the cost extortionate to the consumer. It is easily prepared. Anybody with intelligence enough to light a range may turn out a plate lacking nothing of artistry. If it needs defense against the slams of the restaurateur, then a large majority of this mighty nation will volunteer for the firing line, asking no reward but ham and eggs a-plenty.

THE ONLY WAY

According to announcement the new head of prohibition forces for this region is here to war on the higher ups of the illegal traffic. If his police be not directed at the class named, he might as well have stayed away. The small fry engaged in peddling the stuff are guilty and deserve the punishment they have been getting, but they are of no individual importance. Let one be fined, the financial interests for which he is working, will pay the fine. Let him be sent to jail, and there is another of his type operating in his place. The business is not being interfered with appreciably by prosecution of the big bootleggers' agent. But if the big bootlegger were himself in the net doubtless there would be a different story to tell.

The desire to have the prohibition law made drastically effective is becoming more general. Part of this desire springs from the respect of citizens for the constitution, and their aversion to having even a statute that may not be pleasing to themselves, flouted by a coterie of anonymous bootleggers. The moderate drinker of former days, if not induced to abstinence by this feeling, objects to having poison purveyed to those who lack the judgment to refuse it. The preservation of law as a determining factor in human conduct, the preservation of health, and the promotion of safety, each becomes a consideration that appeals to the thoughtful.

Touching the situation generally a writer in an eastern paper says: "Poisonous liquor continues to kill scores of people throughout the country, but it never has brought death to any who did not drink it."

This does not accord with facts. Countless have been the crimes attended by fatalities often wantonly inflicted, and traceable directly to poisonous liquor. There is no zone of safety even for the sober where consumption of the illegal beverages now current is tolerated. The dipsomaniac may drink himself to death, and small loss. While engaged in the operation he foists upon the community the risk of harboring a madman.

ANY EXCUSE SERVES

A peculiar set of papers that advocates the candidacy of Hiram Johnson seizes the appointment of ex-Senator Kellogg as a pretext for attacking President Coolidge. Nobody will be befuddled by this. The appointment has nothing to do with the case. It is being dragged in as an excuse in lieu of any real excuse, search for the latter having been futile.

It is to be assumed that the President in picking a man for so important a post as St. James, takes the best he can find. The filling of this particular post, is, for reasons that have been explained many times, a difficult task. While there doubtless are plenty of citizens with the necessary intellect, and the essential knowledge of diplomacy, the one to accept is bound to do so at such personal sacrifice that one of ordinary means is unable to accept.

So far as Senator Johnson is concerned, the appointment of one individual or another, makes no shred of difference. It would have been utilized as an opportunity just the same. That a journalist, who is understood to be a valuable client of Johnson's, does not like the appointee is a circumstance concerning which the indifference of the public is profound.

THE THEORY OF GREED

It is a familiar theory that the individual gets out of life only what he puts into it. His views of any given situation are but the reflection of himself.

One writer says that European nations have more in mind than German reparations; that they want to see what more they can get out of the United States; how they can tap American resources to rebuild Europe while continuing to fight and to build war equipment in the old way.

It is a fair presumption that a writer to whom the situation appeals thus, merely has figured out the course that would be natural to himself. It is the thing that would be done could the conduct of Europe be inspired by his personal creed. Surely he can find no other basis for his allegation. Europe may, probably does, envy the prosperity of this country. But as Europe is only perturbed and not crazy, its people know that participation in the prosperity is not to be by deed of gift. Altruistic as may be the policy of the United States, it cannot be led by appeal or by trick and device into backing the wars of Europe. All that Europe can have from this country must be obtained by commercial activities, by methods wholly proper and of mutual benefit. That Europe regards the United States as a docile bird to be plucked goes beyond the absurd, and reaches grotesqueness.

The statement appears, not by the best of authority, that France declares its inability to pay its debt to the United States. At the same time, it is said to hold to its intent to collect from Germany in full. In these statements may be detected an inconsistency. This country is not pressing France, has showed no inclination to do so, but on the contrary, a desire to grant time, distributing the burden over so long a span as not to make it grievous. Certainly French diplomacy makes a queer display in proclaiming at once its determination not to pay what it owes, and to exact all that is owed to it.

The people of this country would be glad to see conditions in Europe normal again. They have faith to believe yet that the change is coming, slowly but with the certainty of an evolutionary process. They are willing to give their good offices to the restoration of peace. They are not in the least afraid of any sinister designs against themselves, knowing that even if such designs existed, they must be ineffective. Europe is a suppliant, powerless to order, or to delude the United States, and probably with too much good sense remaining to try either method.

Exit Wives and Servant Girls

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

Professor Bernard Mercer, formerly a member of the faculty of Columbia university, predicts that in 50 years marriage as we now understand it will be obsolete.

An eastern scientist advises the world that within ten years the servant girl will be extinct.

When the physicians have revived the population we will consider the statements on their respective merits.

The professor does not mean that men and women will stop mating. What he does mean is that the commercial factor will be squeezed out of marriage and with it will go that feeling of ownership that the best of men can't help having toward a dependent, be she wife, mother, sister or daughter. He means that the husbands of the future will be mates, companions and lovers, not proprietors, and that because of this fact they will look upon their wives as partners and equals rather than as playthings and inferiors.

The eastern scientist knows perfectly well that as long as there are homes some one will do housework; but the housework of the future will be a respected employe with standardized work and regular hours and not a professional inferior whose main duty is to bolster up the self respect of a mistress suffering from an inferiority complex created and intensified by her husband-proprietor.

Men and women are both dissatisfied with marriage today because it is a superior and inferior relation with all the humiliations and conflicts connoted by such a relation. The mistress and servant relation is of the same nature, and neither marriage as it now exists nor service as it now exists can be said to have a logical place in a world that is swinging away from feudalism and toward democracy.

The husband of the future will love his wife too much to desire to hold her either inferior or dependent for her necessities on his whim; the woman of the future will love her womanhood too much to make it a matter of barter and sale in marriage or out of it.

As to the houseworker, she will be a houseworker because she has womanly instincts which can best be satisfied by ministering to a family group; she will not be an unfortunate who does housework because she can do nothing else.

With homes established on love and run by free wives and free maids the world will enter on an era of happiness and home keeping content such as history has not yet recorded nor yet dreamed. What a pity that we who have suffered through the transition period will not be here to see.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Two years ago the old bus had one of its periodical attacks of sleeping sickness and we limped into a little shack with a "Garage" sign over the door. The boss was the whole crew. The floor was of cinders and he slept on an army cot in the corner. His stock of tools was good for one hearty laugh delivered on the spot. But he cured the car.

"I know a man who needs a good driver and mechanic," I said in gratitude. "I can get the job for you if you want it."

"No more wages for me," said the kid. "I'm on my own."

He had driven a car for years. One day his boss came to him with an offer of promotion. He was about to engage in a new business, which would require the services of a fleet of cars.

"I'll make you master mechanic of our garage," said the boss, "and double your pay."

"I won't take it," said the kid. "What's more, I'm through working for wages at the end of the week."

It came to him, he said, that if he accepted his boss's offer he would never be his own man. There was good pay ahead—more money than he had ever dreamed of making—but he would be a wage-earner all his life. That wasn't good enough. Men do not attain independence by working for other men on wages. A man whose services are good enough to be paid for should be worth more to himself.

The little garage of two years ago has grown since then. A crew of mechanics work there. The kid is making money.

And for myself, said he. "And I'm not going to stop here long. If I can do this well, I can do better."

THE LISTENING POST

CHAPTER XVIII

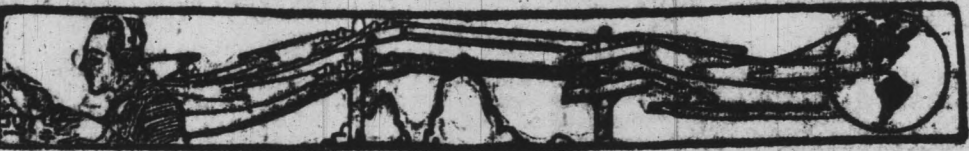

The prisoners at the institution are largely employed in road making. Just now there is a bitter campaign being waged against the governor for exercising too free clemency in pardoning and paroling prisoners.

And just a few days ago the last of the bunko ring that was rounded up in Denver were taken to the prison to serve their terms. They bunched a Texas rancher and he followed them until the last man was arrested, tried and convicted. Those Texans have one track minds and this one knew nothing but to follow the gang until all of it was rounded up.

It would have pleased some of those interested in Boy Scout work to observe some of the scout activities among the school boys in coal camps. First aid work is emphasized because there is often need for it when there are mine accidents. A group of half a dozen high school boys at one of the camps, three or four of them of foreign parentage, gave me a demonstration of first aid work and bandaging for various fractures of leg, arm and back.

A broken back is the most tragic accident to the miner that can happen. The necessity of complete immobility is obvious if the patient is not to die or be permanently paralyzed through the breaking of the spinal chord. So with a high school boy as a subject, the scouts showed me how a broken back is first aided: Two uprights of board an inch thick, six or seven feet long and about four inches across, the flat surface are laid side by side, possibly eight inches apart. Three cross pieces are laid at the shoulder, hips and calves of the victim.

Then he is lashed with nineteen separate bandages to the frame thus made until he is a part of it and there is no possibility of his moving a fraction of an inch. With such a frame and bandaging he can be transported any distance without further dislocating the vertebrae or adding to the original injury. Many broken backs are successfully treated. And there are in and about the camps men whose backs have been broken and who are employed at various light occupations usefully.

Songs of the Poets

"I Heard A Soldier"—By Herbert Trench

I heard a soldier sing some trifle
Out in the sun-dried veldt alone:
He lay and cleaned his grimy rifle
Idly, behind a stone.

"If after death, love, comes a waking,
And in their camp so dark and still
The men of dust heag bulges, breaking
Their halt upon the hill.

To me the slow and silver pealing
That then the last high trumpet pours
Shall softer than the dawn come stealing,
For, with its call, comes yours!"

What grief of love had he to stifle,
Basking so idly by his stone,
That grimy soldier with his rifle
Out in the veldt, alone?

ALL ABOARD FOR HELL

By DR. FRANK CRANE

WHEN you have been trying to show the young wastrel or profligate that he is certainly headed for ruin, when you know absolutely that if he goes on as he is going he will certainly wind up in tragedy, and when he simply laughs in your face, it is difficult to restrain your impatience, your indignation.

And the world is just such a fool. All it has to do is to continue in its present direction, and as sure as gun is iron there will be, within at least twenty-five years, such horror and devastation as history has never known.

This is not the croaking of a loose imagination. It is the conclusion of the severest logic.

Under the old system of nationalities, of mutual armed preparedness, wars occurred with clock-like regularity. The last war of all being the most terrible in the world's history.

In destructive effects, wars increase with a sort of geometric progression.

We have refused to change that old system. Partisanship cut the throat of the League of Nations in the United States. We are still operating under exactly the same old system as before the last war. That it will produce another war as soon as the nations have caught their breath and regained their resources is almost a mathematical certainty. What that war will be like it is as difficult to determine as it is to calculate the dimensions and duration of Hell.

Commander Burney, of the British navy, an officer of high standing, and a sober scientist, is responsible for this prognosis:

An airship leaving Japan could, within forty-eight hours, be destroying San Francisco. An airship leaving Europe could be attacking New York in less than forty hours. Such an airship could drop bombs that would wreck the city. It could carry gas bombs containing gas so powerful that any person inhaling it would be killed instantly. This gas being heavier than air would fill all the subways and cellars and destroy all life therein. People would not have time to put on gas masks. The airship could carry germs that would spread universal death throughout a population.

These aircraft will be able to travel in relative silence as much advance is being made in silencing the noise of the propeller.

Former wars were between armies that made a defensive ring around the country they endeavored to protect. All the fighting was done on the frontier. The last war began and the next war will perfect the much more effective way of winning the conflict by destroying the supporting population. It will be a war not on soldiers alone, but on the women that bore them, the farmers that feed them, and the workers that supply them with munitions and food.

Science is going forward with giant strides in the arts of destruction. Education is proceeding at a snail's pace.

Senators, statesmen, newspapers and others in influential positions are pouring out a steady stream of poison into the minds of the people, endeavoring to prejudice them against any world agreement to stop war.

Unless something can be done to awaken the intelligence and conscience of mankind, it looks very much as if Destiny had in mind the experiment of exterminating the majority of the human race and starting over again.

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

Scientists say that people live longer than was customary fifty years ago. The invigorating influence of dodging automobiles evidently more than offsets fatalities.

One hears of course, that Europe laughs at American diplomacy, but it doesn't. Europe has been educated.

"Judge Gary" says a commentator, "isn't worried about the United States yet." Highly important and comforting. But who is worrying?

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

THE DAILY PLANE FOR LONDON
[Philadelphia Public Ledger]

The Shenandoah, as Secretary Denby intimated, points forward from the restrictive use of aircraft for military ends to the day when the aerial voyage across the Atlantic will become the daily commonplace. So magnificent an agency of intercommunication has a destiny far nobler than to connive in the destruction of life and property. The "navies" grappling in the central blue" which Tennyson forecast may well give way, in the interest of civilization.

COMMENT ON DA'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

So-called whisky, made of wood alcohol, was used in a number of Christmas celebrations in 1919. The whisky had been compounded by men fully aware of the nature of it. That it was used to kill anybody who drank it, they knew very well, but they didn't care. The whisky was sold at a profit. So far as known 101 fatalities result. No count was made as to victims who recover from the illness occasioned, but who had lost their sight.

There were at first three men engaged in the murderous traffic. They had the wood alcohol. Perhaps it really was theft for which they were punished, rather than a graver crime of murder. Anyhow the three, their helper were sentenced to prison for a time long enough to represent each separate death as serving of the penalty of ten days, to be paid by a four who had caused it. In compounding the original crooks had engaged the service of a fourth person, and part of the dreadful punishment fell on him, too.

The four, each one of whom merited the electric chair for an aggregate of less than three years. Now they are free, all bone still in this country, probably bootlegging, and the fourth enjoying freedom and fortune in his native Italy.

Just why such assassins were permitted to make a joke of the prohibition law, and of the law against murder, seems never to have been explained.

The Moros seem to be engaged in shooting up the Philippine constabulary. They are in such humor that it is said that in case independence were granted the island now, they would revolt.

After revolting it is assumed they would find worse mischief in the potting of constables.

In a lively chase after bootleggers the posse managed to capture Los Angeles policeman who was legging it with the rest of the gang. It is said to have employed his off-duty leisure in the making and vending of liquor.

The interview between this copper and Chief Vollmer must have been interesting.

Hard fortune seems to pursue the ships of the navy this year. Another submarine has gone down to stay, carrying several men to death.

Recently a man convicted of several crimes was sentenced on one of them to "from one year to life" and on another to "from five years to life." The second sentence is to follow the other, and the combination ought to hold him for a while.

On the face of it the infliction of two life sentences would seem absurd, but anybody thinking so could not have in mind the working of the parole system in this state. Ordinarily a life sentence has no meaning beyond a comparatively short detention. One such sentence on top of another ought, however, to be effectual.

Some unkind person has traced the cost of coal to the producer. There had been a custom of blaming it all on the railroads and the army of middlemen. Now the producer appears with a smudge on his fair repute, and the burden of guilt is lifted in part from the others.

A good many wise people are coming to California where coal does not cut much figure, and discussion of its price is largely academic.

One vaudeville concern in the east is suing another for $10,050,000 damages, indicating that there is something more serious than slapstick comedy in the old "ten, twenty, thirty."

If the owner of one circuit has the sum mentioned it is little wonder that a competitor wants to be declared in on some sort of divvy.

The many friends of Mayor Rolph of San Francisco will be sorry to learn that his son, James III, has been badly injured in an automobile accident. The injury resulted from the lad's attempt to shield the young woman who was with him at the time of the crash.

Some of the movie picture concerns are cutting down production for a time. This is done regularly, and each time seem to be considered a novelty.

Of course the stars have saved enough so that they will enjoy vacation among the simple pleasures of the Baltimore and 8th places.

Mrs. Ford says that she does not desire to live at the White House, which may be regarded as rather fortunate. The people of this country do not like to see any lady disappointed.

There seems to be psychology even in relation to the consumption of liquors. Many a man takes his stuff from a bottle covered with forged labels, and dignified but counterfeit stamps, and is satisfied.

If he had knowledge of the chemical composition of the bootleg liquor, one good drink would knock him off his pins and into a hospital.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THE MOODY CHILD

About the most trying child among all sorts of children is a moody child, the one who sinks into gloom without apparent cause, sticks there in spite of anything you can say or do, so win a cheek, look, even a ray of light, in the glazed eyes. What makes them that way?

We can only guess. We are sure of just one thing about them though. They are very unhappy when these seizures overcome them. Deadly unhappy. Their misery ought to appeal to our sympathies and all our patience and tact be brought to bear upon them.

To help them one must try to discover what brings on the mood and then try to avoid it and help the child to fight it. The gifted children are likely to be subject to moods. Often after they have expended themselves in effort they sink into moody silence that troubles the about them.

The best thing to do for them is to leave them alone. Rest is what they need and silence is the finest and most comforting of rests frayed nerves. Let them alone.

If you have anything to say that you think will help say it when the mood is over. It is too late when it is on. Try to keep such children from overdoing, a most difficult thing to do.

Some children have moods of despondency because they overeat or eat what is not good for them. They have an attack of indigestion, that's all. The cure for that is obvious. Attend to their diet. The old lady who used to reach for a bottle of castor oil whenever her son showed signs of grumpiness wasn't far wrong in her diagnosis.

The most serious mood of any is the exhilaration of the over-stimulated child. He laughs and talks without stopping for breath. He trots restlessly up and down and to and from until the family are worn out.

What was it that excited him so? Try to find out and avoid it and train him to control himself.

If you cannot help him get the better of it the best thing to do is to call in a specialist and have him prescribe a routine for the sick child, for sick he certainly is.

But whether the moods are the hints of genius or the acidity of indigestion or the reactions of an unstable nervous organization or moody child calls for our best care. He is not a case for punishment. Don't say to a giggling child, "Stop it this minute or I'll slap you well." Speak gently and firmly and send him on an errand with something to carry in his hands. That last is very important.

If he is brooding over a failure to attain his end don't scold him for moping. Speak to him gently and ask him to do you a favor. If he is a worn out child, down in the valley of night because he has burnt out his candle and must wait now for more power, pity's sake let him alone.

START ERECTION MASONIC TEMPLE IN ALEXANDRIA

[By Associated Press]

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Nov. 1.—The cornerstone of a four million dollar Masonic temple, a national Masonic memorial to George Washington and a shrine for American Freemasonry was laid here today with impressive ceremonies. President Coolidge, members of the cabinet, a large array of official personages and representatives of 17,000 blue lodges and other Masonic organizations participated. The temple which is Greek in its architecture will be known as the George Washington National Memorial.

The building will rise 200 feet above Shooters hill, on the outskirts of this city, which Thomas Jefferson and James Madison proposed for the site of the capitol of the United States. It will resemble and was inspired by the great towers of ancient Greece and Rome from whose summits permanent burning glares guided mariners at sea and, in the words of H. W. Corbett, one of its architects, "will represent to the world the guiding spirit of Washington in statesmanship and his revered precepts which for all time will set an example by which the ship of state may direct its course."

In this memorial will be the resting place of many priceless relics of the father of his country which have been carefully preserved by the Alexandria-Washington Lodge, No. 22, of which Washington was the first worshipful master. Located equidistant between the nation's capital and Mount Vernon, the home of Washington, the memorial will become the mecca of many visitors who make pilgrimages to Washington's tomb on the Potomac.

The original trowel used by General Washington on September 18, 1793, in laying the cornerstone of the capitol building of the United States was used again today in the laying of the cornerstone of the memorial. Silver replicas of the trowel were presented to each visiting grand master who used them in spreading a small quantity of mortar for the cornerstone. The ceremonies conformed to the laws of Masonry as in use in Virginia and were under the auspices of the grand lodge of Virginia with Charles H. Callahan, deputy grand master of Virginia, in charge as a tribute for his lifelong study of Washington. Col. Louis A. Watres of Scranton Penn., president of the George Washington Masonic Memorial association, William Howard Taft, chief justice of the United States and James H. Price, grand master of Virginia, assisted. The ceremonies were preceded by a parade from the old lodge room to the new memorial site in which marched Masons from every state.

A six-column portico of pure Greek Doric design forming the entrance to the building will be a marked contrast to the plain, unbroken walls of the exterior of the Masonic rooms. Above the massive base will rise a tower-like structure of smaller dimensions. Directly above the Memorial hall the second story of the tower will form a museum room for the preservation of relics of George Washington and his time, as well as interesting relics connected with Washington's service as master of the Alexandria-Washington lodge. There will be a third level of slightly smaller dimensions above the museum room and above that an observation level with a structure a little smaller in size from which visitors will be able to view the country from the capitol building at Washington to the Washington homestead at Mount Vernon. State-ly colonnades on all four sides of each of these three levels forming the tower-like structure will add to the beauty of the memorial. The architects are Helme & Corbett, New York, with S. Eugene Osgood, Detroit, as consulting architect. Olmsted Brothers, Brookline, Mass., are the landscape architects with Carl Rust Parker in association.

Shooters hill, the site of the memorial, was selected, as it commands a view of the city of Washington, of Mount Vernon, of Alexandria and of all the country most frequented by George Washington.

Laying of the cornerstone of the memorial marks the close of 170 years since George Washington became a Mason. He entered the order November 4, 1773, The Alexandria Blue lodge, which was privileged to add Washington's name to the name of the city so that it today is known as Alexandria-Washington lodge No. 22, held the first regular communication of the first Masonic lodge in Alexandria on February 25, 1783. It was instituted by the provincial grand lodge of Pennsylvania, and was known as No. 39 of that jurisdiction. General Washington was elected an honorary member shortly after his return from the Revolutionary war, and his fondness for the old institution is evidenced by a letter written to the lodge and still in its possession. After the surrender of the Pennsylvania warrant, application for a new charter was made to the grand lodge of Virginia and General Washington became first and charter master of Alexandria lodge No. 22. He subsequently was elected to succeed himself and served in all about 20 months.

ALBATROSS NIGHT GOWNS

Night gowns of fine albatross, hand embroidered, are the choice of many women who suffer from the cold. These gowns are beautifully made and come in a number of different colors. Some fastidious women prefer to wear them over a gown of silk or batista.

Curing your Golf Troubles

Dear Mr. Barnes: In a golf discussion a few days ago among several friends, one of those present claimed that most good players in putting purposely hit the ball high to give it an overspin so that it would have more of a tendency to drop into the cup than a ball hit low. Is this true? Also is it a good practice for the average player?

W. R. T.
Answer: I think the gentleman in question was stretching his imagination a little. I don't know of a player who purposely aims at such an effect. There are possibly times when a ball is struck a little high and gets an extra roll, but I dare say it is usually unintentional, and as a matter of fact not hit as the player intended.

Under certain conditions, a player may try to put a bit of cut on the ball on the putting green, where the putt is a down-hill one and the green is fast. But purposely hitting the ball high, I believe, is rarely if ever done. I certainly would not recommend any such practice to one of my pupils. If the ball has quite a distance to travel, hit it hard enough and try to hit it as squarely and truly as you can. Practice in hitting the ball smoothly and truly will yield you more benefit than any work of trying to acquire an art of intentionally stroking the ball high to impart an overspin. I have seen clubs, designed to give that effect, but I have never found that they were very helpful.

WHEN THE WILL LOSES

By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE

Author of "The Riddle of Personality," "Self-Development," Etc.
(Copyright, 1923, by The Associated Newspapers)

Suppose you are the victim of a bad habit which you have vainly endeavored to overcome. Again and again you have tried, but always to no purpose.

Now you reproach yourself for your weakness of will. You imagine that in this respect you must be infinitely inferior to other men, and the thought is naturally most distressing to you.

Let me tell you, both for your consolation and as an aid in breaking the habit which so far has defied your best efforts, that others would be as helpless as you if handicapped as you evidently are.

There are two things against which the strongest will is impotent when they run counter to it. One of these is belief, the other is desire. I will repeat for your benefit what I have already said in my book on "Self-Development":

"Willing is to a remarkable extent dependent on wishing. What a man wills to do is chiefly a result of what he wishes to do. More than this, his ability to do what he wills to do is itself largely a product of his wishing. Wishing, when intense enough, breeds power."

Possibly you have never put squarely to yourself the question: "Do I sincerely wish to throw off the habit that has enslaved me?" If in your heart of hearts you for any reason prefer to be the captive of that habit instead of free from it, then you are foredoomed to will in vain.

What you ought to do, if you find that desire is in your case an enemy of the will, is to maneuver so that desire will become the will's ally. Use your imagination to depict vividly to yourself the sad consequences of persisting in the habit you would break, and at the same time picture vividly the happy consequences flowing from the breaking of it.

Dwell on these insistently, persistently. Little by little a sincere wish for freedom will then develop, and out of this wishing will grow effective willing.

Or it may be that the trouble in your case is not contrary wishing but contrary believing.

If a man says to himself: "I will do such and such a thing," and in the same breath, consciously or subconsciously, says: "I cannot do such and such a thing," again he will find himself willing to no purpose. The idea "I cannot" is as surely a conqueror of the will as the idea, "I don't wish to."

As one psychologist puts it:

"We cannot rely upon the will alone to deliver us from evil habits. Modern psychotherapy confirms the old religious belief that to give power to the will, confidence and faith in the possibility of victory are essential."

Accordingly, besides examining yourself with regard to your true desire,—attitude toward the habit that hampers you, examine yourself with regard to your faith or lack of faith, in your power to break it. And if that examination reveals lack of faith, begin forthwith to assert to yourself the possession of the power that you unquestionably do possess.

Nine times out of ten, perhaps oftener, these two things, contrary desire and contrary belief, account for ineffective willing. If this were more generally recognized and the necessary corrective measures taken, ineffective willing would be far less in evidence than it actually is.

SPORT
-O-
GRAMS

By FRANCIS W. READ

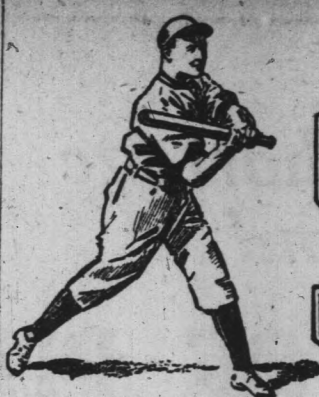

Will the Occidental Tiger maintain his place at the head of the percentage column after Saturday's game or will the Whittier Poets nose him out of the Southern California conference leadership? It is hardly possible at the present writing to say definitely one way or the other, but our prediction is that the Tiger will come out on top of the heap, although when he has finished with Whittier he will know that he has been in a scrap.

The Occidental eleven far surpasses any other football aggregation in the conference this season. The team has lost but one game, and that not a conference affair, to Stanford. It seemed that the Cards simply had the Tiger boys on the run. It was mainly the inability of Shoof to handle Neviers' punts that accounted for the high score of the Stanford crew. Barring this game, the Tigers have a clean slate. They have defeated every team they met in the preseason games and took the Redlands Bulldogs into camp for an awful beating in the first and only conference game they have played. To say that in every one of these games except the Stanford affair the Oxy men looked the money, would be putting it mildly.

The Tigers are a much better football team than the team they face Saturday, and play a much better game than do the lads from the Quaker City. Both of Whittier's victories have come from breaks and in both instances the Quakers were completely outplayed. In the Caltek affair the Poets made but one first down from scrimmage, while the Engineers made 15; yet Whittier won the game. In the Southern Branch affair the Poets won by the narrow margin of two points because the Cubs were unable to kick their goals. If they had done so the result would have been a tie. But three first downs were made by the Quaker eleven, while the Cubs plowed right through the Poet line time and again for yards, and twice marched right down the field for touchdowns. On the other hand, the two Whittier scores came not as the result of consistent ground gaining, but from advantageous breaks. The wind that was blowing made accurate passing difficult, and Johns of the Whittier eleven intercepted a misdirected pass and ran seventy yards for a touchdown. A blocked kick was responsible for the other marker. Clark fell on it behind the line.

Occidental's wins have not been of such a character, but all decisive victories. It is our opinion that the Tigers will take the Poets into camp Saturday and remain at the head of the percentage column for the time being.

The futility of playing one kind of football to the exclusion of all others has been demonstrated time

GLENDALE'S ALL
STARS TO PLAY
TWO MORE GAMES

Will Meet Angels on Saturday and Shell Oilers Sunday

Glendale's All-Star baseball team, composed of players from the big league teams, will engage in two games this week end. On Saturday at Washington Park they will clash with the Los Angeles Pacific Coast league club, the Angels. On Sunday they will meet the Shell Oil nine at Signal Hill. Both these teams are exceptionally fast and should put up a hard scrap to down the big time ball players.

Wearing the Glendale uniforms, the All-Stars went down to defeat last Sunday before the Pasadena Merchants' nine. The Merchants were reinforced by twirler Wheeler and a bunch of professional players. Bobby Meusel's homer with the bases empty was of no avail in the final count.

The same aggregation of stars that played at Tournament park last Sunday will represent Glendale and again. The latest demonstration was the Stanford-U. S. C. game last Saturday. The Cardinals played out one kind of football through-out the old army game. That is a good game to play, but not to the exclusion of all others. It was because the Trojans were versatile enough to play almost any kind of game that the occasion required that they were able to trip the house of Cards.

Andy Smith tried to play the open field game to the exclusion of all else, but soon gave the idea up. To be sure, that is his mainstay now, but he does not use it to the exclusion of all else. The Washington-Jefferson game of two years ago taught him that a good defense can break up the open game and that on a muddy field his men cannot play that type of football.

The team that is versatile enough to change its style of play to suit each emergency as it arises is usually the team that wins.

ZEV PROVES THAT HE IS STILL THE CHAMPION STUFF

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Zev yesterday demonstrated that he is fit for the $50,000 championship at Latonia next Saturday, when he will meet My Own in what may prove the deciding three-year-old test of the year, by galloping to easy victory in the $5000 autumn championship stakes feature event of the closing day's card at Empire City track.

The race, at a mile for all ages, proved little more than a workout for the conqueror of Papyrus. Ridden by Earl Sande and carrying 120 pounds, Zev breezed under the wire in 1:40 3-5, five lengths ahead of Bracdale, a stablemate. Harry Payne Whitney's Tryster was third and Larkin, the only other starter, finished fourth after breaking away to run three-quarters of a mile before the race.

Zev worked an extra furlong by Sande, finishing the mile and an eighth in 1:56 1-3.

In both the coming games, Bobby and Irish Meusel, Arnold Stutz, Mike Donlin, Babe Herman and the rest of the outfit will be out to avenge themselves for their recent defeat. As Commissioner Landis has issued a ruling prohibiting the big leaguers from engaging in barnstorming tours after November 10, these two games will be the last chance local fans will have to see the big leaguers in action.

Play in the Triple A league will open Sunday afternoon with one game. The Union Tool works nine will cross bats with Sawtelle on the latter's diamond. This will be the only game of the day, as the parks in the other cities have not been completed.

The Glendale team in the Triple A league will play its first game one week from Sunday. The place of the game and the opposing team are not known at the present time. The Glendale entry will be composed of high class professional ball players.

Work on the new ball park on South San Fernando road between Park and Palmer is coming along in great shape. The fencing is nearly completed and the ground is fast being put into shape. Frank Kerwin, who is constructing the park, states that it will be ready by November 25.

CALIFORNIA-U. S. C. FOOTBALL GAME IS NOT SAN FRANCISCO
AGAINST LOS ANGELES AFFAIR

Sentiment in Southland Divided, Presence of Southern Branch of U. C. Means 4000 California Rooters in Trojans' Home Town

By FRANCIS W. READ

There seems to be a misunderstanding in the minds of many football fans, including a number of sporting writers, as to the nature of the California-U. S. C. game of November 10. It has been characterized as an inter-sectional game between the two parts of California, the Bears representing the north and the Trojans the south.

A dispatch from Los Angeles, prepared by the University of Southern California news bureau, in which the above attitude was set forth, has appeared in several papers. To quote from the dispatch:

"The game is more than a contest between two universities, it is Los Angeles against San Francisco and thousands of persons from all sections of the state and elsewhere will be on hand to cheer their favorite."

Such a statement is utterly absurd and contrary to all facts. The University of California is a state institution, owned and operated by the State of California under the direct supervision of a board of regents appointed by the governor, and representing all sections of the state. To be sure, the main university is located in central California, in the city of Berkeley, just across the bay from San Francisco. However, many southern boys, including a number from Los Angeles, play on the Blue and Gold eleven. The University of California is a state institution and represents the entire state of California, and not any particular city or section of the state.

Then there is another fact that the writer of the story under discussion, and others holding this opinion, fail to take into consideration. That fact is that in the city of Los Angeles itself, the home of the Trojan institution, and located less than three miles from the U. S. C. campus, there is the Southern Branch of the University of California, with an enrollment of 4,000 students who are as loyal Californians as though they were on the campus at Berkeley. The presence of 4,000 California supporters right here in the Trojans' home town, and the fact that an integral part of the University of California is located here should be sufficient evidence to prove the fallacy of any statements that the big game will be in the nature of an inter-sectional contest. Los Angeles is not behind U. S. C. in a body. It is divided in its allegiance. Anyone who has ever set foot on the campus of the University of California, Southern Branch, out on Vermont avenue and Santa Monica boulevard will see the fact that the University of California is just as much a Los Angeles institution as is the University of Southern California, and is as much a part of Los Angeles as it is of Berkeley. This is not written with the intent of antagonizing the supporters of the Trojans or elating the followers of the Golden Bears. It is a plain statement of facts, written to clear up an erroneous notion that has gained considerable credence in these parts of late. The California-U. S. C. game on November 10 will not be "Los Angeles against San Francisco." It will be a football game between the two universities, that is all.

GLENDALE BABES
BATTLE MONROVIA
MIDGETS TODAY

The appearance of the sun this morning after the rains of yesterday gave assurance that the Glendale Midget footballers and the Monrovia lightweights would engage in their scheduled brawl at Monrovia this afternoon. Yesterday it was believed that the game would have to be postponed because of the inclement weather.

The Dynamiter babes hope to redeem themselves from their defeat at the hands of Citrus last week by coming back and handing the Wildcat cubs a hard wallop. Coach Butterfield has every confidence in the world that his men will be able to turn the trick. The line-up of the Glendale Midget eleven is as follows: Stillwell, left end; Sturgess, left tackle; Green, left guard; Muss, center; Johnson, right guard; Heiderman, right tackle; Reed, right end; LeFranchi, quarter; Shuler, left half; McAllister, right half; Thompson, full.

TICKETS FOR THE
TURKEY DAY AUTO
CLASSIC ON SALE

Assurance that the Beverly Hills speedway will be in condition for the Thanksgiving race was given this morning and tickets for the Turkey Day auto classic were placed on sale. A crew of workmen started yesterday to rebuild the portion of the track that was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon and expect to have the course in shape inside of two weeks. One eighth of the board track, that portion known as the northwest turn, was destroyed. The fire was checked before it spread to the stands or the rest of the track.

A. M. Young, manager of the Los Angeles Speedway association, announced that tickets were placed on sale this morning at the B. H. Dyer store on West Seventh street, Los Angeles, the Auto club, West Adams and Figueroa, and at all auto club branch offices. Mr. Young states that there has been a tremendous demand for reservations.

COAST ELEVEN TO BE BUSY
SATURDAY

Trojans Only Team Not Scheduled to Play This Week

Although but two contests will be played in the Pacific Coast conference Saturday there will be several games played on the coast of wide interest to the football public. A few of the conference teams will go outside of the conference ranks to find opponents Saturday.

The two conference tilts are slated for the far north, and are not calculated to cause any great upset in the standings. The Oregon Aggies meet Coach Bagshaw's strong University of Washington eleven at Corvallis. There is little doubt as to the outcome of the game. The Aggies rank low in the ratings, and are in for a neat little trimming at the hands of the Huskies.

The University of Oregon meets Washington State at Pullman in what promises to be a cellar championship encounter. It is expected that the Cougars will take the game, as their showing last Saturday when they held the California Bears to nine points astonished the fans. Oregon has little or nothing in the way of a football team this year.

Up at Berkeley the Golden Bears will meet the University of Nevada gridders. This is not a conference game, and therefore the result is of no importance. The showing of the Glue and Gold against the Jackrabbits should, however, be an indication of their condition at the present time, just one week before the U. S. C. game. The Trojans have no conference tilt scheduled for this Saturday and will take advantage of the bye to rest from the strenuous road trips of the last two weeks.

Stanford meets the Olympic club at Palo Alto in one of the toughest games of the day. The Cards look rather helpless since last Saturday and will have to go some to trim the clubmen. The Olympics put

DYNAMITERS TO MEET MONROVIA
HERE TOMORROW

Glendale Gridders Will Take on Wildcats on Local Field

By FAIRFIELD WILSON

The heavyweight football team which G. U. H. S. is proud to call her own, is ready to enter the struggle with Monrovia tomorrow. If constant drilling and practice, hard hitting and speed, tend to make for Glendale's pride, at any rate, Glendale has it mind set on the championship this year.

Last week when the Citrus Lemons arrived in town all set on breaking the winning streak, they were sadly disappointed, and when a good team goes down before a score of 41-0, it is pretty strong proof that they ran up against something pretty heavy.

Perhaps here it might be well to say a little about the team. First of all, Captain Ronney West plays left half. At this post he stars in both passes and runs. Ronney covers the other halfback position. He has proven himself fast enough to round the ends many times when the team is in a tight place. Probably one of the outstanding features of every game is right end Horli's ability to catch a pass. Horli is also a valuable player on the defense. Howard Elliot, the man who lays back for the punts, and knows how to punt with the best of them, is a fullback of the right kind of stuff. The other members of the team are lacking in neither spirit nor ability.

A large crowd is expected to witness tomorrow's game; but there is always room in the grandstand and on the benches for all comers.

up a stiff fight against California, holding the Bears to 16 points.

Idaho and Gonzaga clash at Moscow in what promises to be a great game. The two teams appear to be about equal in strength and should put up a hot battle.

PARTY IS ON AT THE PALACE GRAND SHOPS

All Glendale Is Invited to Attend This Formal Opening

The long looked-for formal opening of the Jensen Palace Grand shops, 133 North Brand boulevard, is being held today.

In the form of a great big party this opening event is being given. It was put on to celebrate the leasing of all of the store rooms in the building. Throughout the day the proprietors of the shops are giving away all kinds of souvenirs. Every storekeeper has a great big handshake ready for the visitor—along with one of those contagious smiles.

The very latest in the way of styles at among the lowest prices, along the various lines are being shown by the merchants in these shops. The proprietor of each of these stores has spent years in his or her chosen line and knows the business thoroughly. It is this experience that the owners of these establishments are giving entirely free and with a smile.

Musical entertainment will continue until 10 o'clock tonight. Better go to this opening. It is really worth while. There are many little surprises for those who attend.

The following firms have arranged special displays for its guests:

The ladies will be interested in the Marion Elizabeth Hat shop. Exclusive modes in dinner, dress and sport hats for women of discrimination may be seen on opening day. Hand made hats of exclusive design are specialized in. This firm is open Saturday evenings.

Then there is the Sun Drug company. Everybody knows the values that are offered by all Sun Drug stores—and the Glendale branch has prices equal to those charged in the other Sun branches.

Flowers of every type and description may be secured at the Palace Floral Art, of which Theodore Karras is proprietor. As a special for the opening days, a one dollar ticket will be given with every one dollar purchase, this to be good for a dollar's worth of trade at any later date.

Then there is the Albert Sheetz Confectionery Shop No. 6, dealer in the best there is in the candy line. As a special for opening day this firm will give a 50 cent box of candy for 50 cents.

Here, also, is found the Palace

The Hardest Race of All

Grand Beauty Shoppe, Helene Woodruff, proprietor. Everything in the way of waterwaving, marcelling, bobcutting, shampooing and facial work is done in this shoppe in real workmanlike manner. Hair goods and novelty jewelry are also carried at this shoppe.

The Heschke Shoe store, a modern establishment in its line, is among the stores in the Palace Grand shops. It is conducted by an expert shoe man, who will have a special sale on all footwear on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The Lewis Jewelry company, "where courteous treatment is served with every purchase," is located on the corner of the Arcade. Every high class along the jewelry line is carried in this store and the prices are right.

The Melba-Jeanne Shoppe, where sport and ready-to-wear clothing for women are carried, is also located there. Throughout Thursday, living models, provided by this shoppe, will promenade through the Egyptian village, down the stairway and into the corridor. Melba Dott Russell and Jeanne Bosley are proprietors of this store.

Sherrod's, a modern place where corsets, lingerie and hosiery may be secured at prices that are extremely attractive, is also located here. Glendale women are already acquainted with "Sherrod's" and they know the character of the goods carried. Several specials are being put on.

Another extremely useful place of business is the Gift and Art Needlework shop, the motto of which is "buy a gift." "Only 48 more shopping days before Christmas," says the proprietor of this establishment which carries everything along the gift line.

The Egyptian Village cafe, the character of which is already well known among Glendaleans, is also located here. In fact it is one of the leading features, occupying almost all of the second floor.

To cream butter easily you should heat the bowl it is creamed in by pouring hot water in it and out again. But it must not be hot enough to melt the butter.

—By POP MOMANDKEEPING UP WITH THE JONESES*DICKY DIPPY'S DIARY*—By LEO*U. OF C. SENDS SYMPATHY, 600 BOOKS TO JAPAN

By a curious coincidence, the librarians of the Imperial university, at Tokyo and President Campbell of the University of California wrote and posted corresponding letters on September 20 concerning the heavy loss suffered by the Japanese library in the recent disaster. Reporting the all but total loss of his 500,000 volumes, the Tokyo librarian bespoke the aid of the University of California, as of other institutions, in replacing sets of institutional publications so that study and research might continue. He hoped soon to have replaced, by gift and purchase, a tenth of the former collection. On the same date President Campbell, in furtherance of a resolution passed by the university committee on international relations, wrote at length to the president and faculties of the Imperial university, expressing sympathy in their losses, and in particular offerings, should they be needed for their university library, a complete set of the publications of the University of California and also such duplicates of other volumes as were available. The two letters crossed in mid-ocean. But even before President Campbell's letter of reply arrives at Tokyo, the gift of books will be on its way to help bind together the two great seats of learning that look out upon the Pacific. The shipment will comprise 300 volumes of University of California publications and the same number of books carefully selected by Harold L. Leupp, the university librarian, from his list of duplicates. The Toyo Kisen Kaisha

State Universities To Swap Information

[By Associated Press]
 ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 1.—The making of school budgets and the helpful use of information developed in the investigation of common school problems, will be among the subjects discussed at the meeting in Chicago November 12-13 of the National Association of State Universities. It is recognized that the application of dollars to the needs of schools is of growing importance. The problems of state schools are increasing, and at the same time they are very similar. The vastness of the present day demand for education is the warrant for some plan by which one investigation will help solve the problems common to all.

C. OF C. DIRECTORS WILL MEET ON NOV. 6 AND 20

Chamber of Commerce directors last night decided to hold their sessions November 6 and 20 at noon in Jensen's Egyptian Village. Next Tuesday night is the date of the "Fire Benefit" in the Tuesday Afternoon club and the latter date is the occasion of a banquet at the same place by the Concrete Products association. A written invitation from R. E. Johnston of 444 South San Fernando road, president of this association, was received with appreciation.

Deaths and Funerals

RALPH W. SHAFER (HUTCHENS)
 Funeral services for Ralph W. Shafer (Hutchens), who was killed in an automobile accident on October 29, 1923, at Doran street and Glendale avenue, will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Little Church of the Flowers—Kiefer & Eyerich, undertaking directors, will have charge.

GEORGE LEROY PERSON
 George Leroy Person passed away on Tuesday at his home at 2150 Kenneth road at the age of 42 years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Violet Person, five sons and three daughters, and also by his mother and father and two sisters. He was a member of the Masonic order of Hamilton, Ontario, Canada. Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock on Saturday at the chapel of the Grand View cemetery, Ray, W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, officiating. L. G. Scovern will have charge of the service.

WILLIAM MAXSON CLARK
 William Maxson Clark passed away at his home at 1141 Melrose avenue, November 1, 1923, at the age of 60 years. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Cora M. Clark, two daughters and a son, Mrs. Robert Lane of 1528 South Hope street, Los Angeles; Miss Eola M. Clark of 1141 Melrose avenue and Newton L. Clark of 1229 Melrose avenue, Glendale. Mr. Clark was a member of Western Star Lodge No. 15, F. & A. M., of Bridgewater, N. Y. Funeral services will be held at the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking company, Ray, W. E. Edmonds, Saturday afternoon. Rev. Livingston of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church will officiate.

Directly ink has been split, take a sponge and mop up as much of it as possible. Have two bowls containing clear water beside you, the one to squeeze the inky sponge into, the other to dip it into when cleaned. Continue soaking the soiled spot with clean water until as much ink as possible is removed. If the stain is persistent apply a little oxalic acid or salts of sorrel, or even a weak solution of ammonia to it. You will find that those prompt remedies will prevent a very nasty stain.

KENNETH HARLAN FINDS AIRPLANE FULL OF TRICKS

Take it from Kenneth Harlan that an aeroplane is a tricky toy to play with unless you know what all the levers mean. When you see "The Broken Wing," a Preferred Picture now playing at the T. D. & L. Theater, you will probably remark on his talent as an aviator but the truth is that Kenneth had a bad fright when he climbed into a plane at a flying field near Los Angeles in the company of Miriam Cooper to enact an early sequence in this comedy-drama of an American flier in Mexico. For three hours Kenneth had been schooled by "Loop-the-Loop" Murphy in the delicate art of piloting an aeroplane around on the ground which was as far as he was supposed to carry the performance without the presence of a professional. He cranked the engine and started taxiing around, somewhat nervously, when all at once something in the vicinity of the motor roared and the plane leaped off the ground. Happily, however, it soon returned to earth, as abruptly as it had decided to shoot heavenward. Little Miss Cooper was very fainting and had to be helped off the field.

Practice makes perfect, however, and by the time "The Broken Wing" was completed, Kenneth had become such a skilled aviator that he soon took out a license as pilot.

"SPOILERS" GIVES FARNUM THRILL IN GLENDALE

William Farnum was the guest of Jesse D. Hampton, film producer, at the first public preview of "The Spoilers," at Glendale.

When Colonel Selig, one of the pioneers of the motion picture game, produced Rex Beach's epic of Alaska more than ten years ago, Farnum played the leading part, that of Roy Glennister. The picture was a world-success and so was Farnum.

In every walk of life theatergoers still talk of the fight in "The Spoilers" between Farnum and Tom Santschi. Farnum, a giant of a man sat next to the producer during the screening of the picture that comes today to the Gateway Theatre. Several times as the audience applauded loudly he gripped the producer by the hand. Upon leaving the little theater the actor seized Milton Sills, who interprets the role of Glennister in the new version and congratulated him. "Marvelous, immense," he said. "It is the greatest picture I have ever seen. I would have given ten years of my life to have played the part again."

SKYSCRAPERS ARE SHORTER IN COLD WEATHER

[By Associated Press]

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Towering steel structures in New York will be approximately one and a half inches shorter this winter than they were in August. The shrinkage of the skyscrapers will not be noticeable to Gothamites, nor to the residents of other cities where the change already is taking place, but to the structural and technical engineers of steel the fact will be known in figures.

A study made by the building planning service of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, covering thermal effects upon buildings, made public here, shows that the Woolworth building, the Metropolitan tower and the Equitable building, among New York's highest structures, will have been shortened from one and two-tenths to one and a half inches.

The figures were arrived at by calculating the expansion and contraction of steel according to the formula familiar in every physics laboratory. The construction and expansion of steel for each Fahrenheit degree change in temperature is only .00000677 inches, but when this figure is multiplied by 9110 inches in the Woolworth building (not counting the basement and sub-basements) it is shown that each degree change makes a difference of .061 inches in the structure. With the Metropolitan building's 8400 inches, each degree change makes a difference of .0568 inches and with the 7200 inches in the Equitable building (counting from the sub-basements to the roof), the difference for each degree of change is .0487 inches.

According to the estimate of Clarence T. Coley, operating manager of the Equitable building and former president of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, the probable limit of temperature change is about 25 degrees.

"Because of the expanding and contracting of the steel in high buildings it is important that the mass of the building be kept as near a uniform temperature as possible to prevent the steel from contracting and expanding within minimum limits," said Mr. Coley. "The limits are probably 55 degrees on the hottest summer day and 68 degrees on a cold winter's day, where the building is adequately heated."

"Should the buildings be allowed to cool off on Sundays and holidays to a temperature of 40 or 50 degrees it can be seen that the contraction would be much more marked and the bulging off of plaster would be excessive. Generally it can be assumed that the temperature variation in the buildings is about 25 degrees. In a building such as the Equitable which is 600 feet from the roof to the sub-basement, the expansion between 60 and 85 degrees would be 1.2 inches, which variation must be followed by the brick work, plaster, verticle piping, elevator guide rails, etc."

If the buildings should ever be allowed to cool to the freezing point the contraction of the Woolworth building would be 3.2 inches; the Metropolitan building would shorten three inches and the Equitable building would be 2.8 inches shorter than the normal height in mid-summer, the statistics reveal.

MONTROSE NOTES

Mr. W. Fullington, formerly of Oakland, has opened a cleaning and pressing establishment at 827 1/2 Montrose avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Killian entertained at their attractive home last evening, the delightful affair being in the nature of a Halloween dance and party. The rooms were charmingly arranged for the event. Dainty refreshments followed the dancing and card playing which formed the diversions of the evening.

Attorney Wm. H. Irons, who has been dividing his time between Montrose, La Crescenta and the city announces that the increasing number of clients in this district compels him to devote himself entirely to the two neighboring communities in order to give the proper care to his fast growing business. Mr. Irons will therefore be at these offices exclusively.

Mr. W. C. Booth, formerly of Los Angeles, has moved with his family to Montrose, where they are comfortably established on Montrose avenue. Mr. Booth will go into business here.

Miss Murray has designed all her clothes for her recent productions. One of the things Miss Murray insists upon in her gowns is that they harmonize, either as complimentary or contrasting colors with the background of the scene. Generally these colors also harmonize with the mood of the scene. As Miss Murray makes all her pictures under the direction of her husband, Robert Z. Leonard, this idea has been worked out through experimentation, so that now they both possess an unusual command of this new technique.

"The French Doll" was adapted by Frances Marion from the English adaptation of the French play by A. E. Thomas.

The average woman derives a lot of enjoyment from telling other women her troubles.

THE EASIEST WAY

If you, the Grocery readjust your scales
To give full sixteen ounces to the pound;
And you, the Lawyer, scorn the fairy tales
You tell to win the case you know unsound;
If you, the Doctor, frown on quackeries
And strive your best to practice as you frown—
Then we shall need few far-sought remedies
To better the conditions here in town.

JAMES W. FOLEY

If you, the Statesman, quit your noisy rant
And be one-half the man you claim to be;
If you, the Preacher, cast away this cant
And empty creed, and heed Christ's "Follow me!"
If you, the Loafer, will go back to work
And be a bee and not a useless drone;
And you, the Laborer, will strive, not shirk—
I think we'll solve our troubles all alone.

If you, the Orator, will give us deeds
To thicken up the gruel of your speech;
And you, the Gardener, will pull the weeds
And cleanse your field so far as you can reach;
If you, the Milkman, give us honest milk
And leave the added water in the well;
And you, the Agitator, and your ilk,
Will toil, not talk—we'll have few woes to tell.

If you, the Voter, will be just as clean
As you think every government should be;
And you, the Officeholder, make the scene
Of your activities a joy to see;
If you, the Citizen, by every act
Will prove your loyalty to civic good—
Our ills will be in dreams much more than fact,
And Country will be nearly what it should.

Income Tax Forms Can Now Be Had of Collector

Forms 1096 and 1099 for the calendar 1923 will be released for distribution today by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodcell.

These forms disclose information by which virtually all income tax returns are checked and are the only forms issued by the internal revenue department that are mailed direct to the commissioner at Washington.

Form 1099 must be returned by every person, corporation or firm that pays to any employee or person any sum of money amounting to $1,000 or more. The name of each person must be given and the sum paid.

Form 1096 is an annual information return of payments of interest, salaries, rents, etc., of $1,000 or more, and is virtually a summary of Form 1099.

Where requests for large quantities have been made, supplies of both forms are being sent to corporations direct from Washington.

Collector Goodcell pointed out that both forms, 1096 and 1099, must be mailed to the commissioner of internal revenue at Washington and not to the Los Angeles office. Both forms must be in the hands of the commissioner by March 15, 1924.

Damages received for breach of promise to marry do not constitute taxable income, according to a ruling received from Washington yesterday.

The ruling was the result of an inquiry made as to the tax status of income derived from breach of promise damages and whether attorney's fees and other costs of such a suit constituted allowable deductions from gross income.

The decision further sets out that attorney's fees and other costs represent personal expenses and as such are not deductible.

INFORMAL PARTY FOR CHILDREN AT THE SOUTHWEST

An informal party for children will be given next Saturday morning, November 3, at the Southwest museum. Dancing, folk songs and a playlet will be presented under the supervision of Ethel Walton Wright.

"Time," in film form, showing earliest methods of computing time, including the Indian and his "moons," the ancient Chaldeans and their star calendars, the early Egyptian sun dials, will also be featured.

Children and their parents are cordially invited to this "at home" party. Museum will be open at 9:30 o'clock in the morning for those wishing to come early. Council of the Woodcraft league will meet in the "Lath cabin" on Museum hill, Saturday morning, November 3, at 9:30 o'clock. Woodcrafters and those interested are cordially invited to attend this university of out doors.

A remarkable illustrated lecture on "Our Place in the Universe" will be given by Dr. Frederick C. Leonard, instructor in astronomy, University of California, Southern Branch, at the Southwest museum, next Sunday afternoon, November 4, at 3:00 o'clock. The public is invited to attend the lecture and to view the third annual exhibition of the work of California painters now being held in the art gallery of the museum.

What It Takes to Grow Pound of Meat

[By Associated Press]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The quantity of foodstuff to produce a pound of meat has been the subject of study of experts of the department of agriculture. They find it takes about six pounds of grain and six pounds of hay to produce a pound of lamb (live weight), 10 pounds of hay and 10 pounds of corn to make a pound of beef, and 5.8 pounds of corn to produce a pound of pork.

AMERICAN LEGION URGES RESTRICTING OF IMMIGRATION

A notable conference on the subject of pending immigration legislation was held at the headquarters of the American Legion in San Francisco on Wednesday afternoon, October 24.

These organizations were represented: the American Legion, by Morgan Keaton, department adjutant, who presided; the State Federation of Labor, by Paul Scharrenberg, secretary-treasurer; the state Grange by C. A. Bodwell, Jr., personal representative of Geo. Harrison, state master; the Native Sons of the Golden West, by Wm. J. Hayes, grand president and C. L. McEnerney, grand director.

There were present by invitation such members of the California congressional delegation as had not left for Washington and could reach San Francisco for the occasion.

It was pointed out that the three organizations first named, in national convention, and all four organizations in state convention, had unanimously urged upon congress the immediate enactment of legislation excluding hereafter as immigrants or permanent residents all aliens ineligible to citizenship under the laws of the United States; that this simple expedient would solve at once and without injustice or discrimination, the grave problem of oriental immigration which is daily becoming more serious; that the four organizations named felt that time had come to place, pleasant endorsement of this policy by aggressive and effective action on the part of congressional representatives; and that they were prepared to furnish any necessary data or support in the matter to these representatives.

Attention was called to the fact that the Legion, at its national convention in this city a week ago made it the duty of the national executives and of each state department to take steps to promote immediate legislation on this subject; that the American Federation of Labor has inaugurated a similar policy; that the state departments of the Legion in California, Oregon, Washington and other western states are co-operating in accord with the policy outlined; and that in California, the four organizations party to the conference had agreed to act together.

It was the sentiment of the conference that so far as concerns the problems involved in oriental immigration, the remedy of the greatest immediate value is the exclusion of ineligible aliens, and that the combined efforts of the four organizations should be centered on that point.

A provision calling for the exclusion of ineligible aliens was included in the restricted immigration bill introduced by the house immigration committee during the closing days of the last session of congress; and the chairman of that committee was quoted as saying the new immigration bill to be introduced early in December will contain a similar provision.

The conference advised the members of the delegation present that it would be equally satisfactory to have the provision desired included in a general immigration bill or made the sole purpose of a separate bill, as seemed most expedient; the main point is to secure the legislation and have it operating effectively.

Committees were appointed to carry on certain portions of the campaigns and report to a future meeting.

GOV. PINCHOT HITS HARD AT LAW VIOLATION

In his address before the citizenship conference in Washington, Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, hit hard and far. He said:

Not only has the political hamstringing of the federal enforcement service had its seat Washington, but it is notorious that disobedience to the eighteenth amendment has been rampant in the capital city. Stories are innumerable of the active practice and encouragement of law breaking by officials high in the government of the United States. We cannot expect other communities to respect and obey the law if the capital of the nation itself is a leader among law breakers. Washington has set the bad example, and it is for Washington to repair the damage.

Pinchot's speech, in which he put responsibility for lax enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act to Coolidge personally, continued these high lights:

"Two facts stand out in the confused and troubled prohibition enforcement situation of today. One is the steadily increasing determination of decent people to have the law enforced. The other is the steadily increasing violation of the law by the criminal elements. The former was to be expected. The latter was not."

"The eighteenth amendment has been betrayed in the house of its friends. Measured by the respect accorded to it, it has failed, and the reason is that no sincere, intelligent and concerted nationwide effort has ever been made to enforce it."

WARREN'S FLOWER SHOP TO OPEN ON SATURDAY

Warren's Flower Shop at 324 East Broadway will have its opening Saturday when each person to visit the new store will be given a buttonhole carnation. This shop will be in charge of Mrs. Sam Warren of 215 North Jackson street, whose husband is superintendent of the Patterson park. Both Mr. and Mrs. Warren take a keen interest in horticulture. They have many friends who wish them success in their business venture.
